Objectives:

The aim of the course is to know a little bit more about primates in general, biology, ecology, behaviour and their conservation status.

One of the objectives would be to facilitate a clearer view on the close relation between Humans and Primates, in order to promote our interest on knowing them, respect them, protect them and finally, help them to be saved from extinction.

Potential Users: Students, Families and particulars who at the end are interested on knowing more about Primates.

Summary:

- 1.- Primates Order: Classification, history, and characteristics
- 2.- Biology
- 3.- Behaviour
- 4.- Conservation Status
- 5.- Protection : Projects and Examples

Practice
